Dr. Jenkins Is Eagerly Received

Noted Minister Makes Two Talks and Conducts Student Open Forum.

Students, teachers and others at the College eagerly took advantage of the opportunity to hear Dr. Burris Jenkins, nationally known pastor of the Community Church of Kansas City, last Thursday, January 21, when at the invitation of the Y. M. C. A. and the College he came to Maryville.

Dr. Jenkins addressed the student assembly at 10 a. m., conducted a student open forum on "Russia" from 2 to 4 p. m., and addressed the 232 students and people of Maryville at the second annual Y. M. C. A. International Fellowship Banquet, at the First Methodist Church, at 6:30 p. m.

One of the ablest and best known of the members of the College faculty said that he believed Thursday was one of the biggest days in the history of the school. And certainly the Y. M. C. A. and its president George Walter Allen and others who cooperated deserve the highest commendation for bringing such a speaker and such an educational and enlightened program to this College and community.

Defines Patriotism

In addressing the students and those gathered at the regular College Assembly Dr. Jenkins defined the true patriot as one who dares to see his country as it is and dares to tell the truth about it to his friends. He said that children should be taught world wide patriotism and love of all mankind.

The famous pastor urged the cancellation of the war debts and the entrance of the United States in the World Court.

Concerning the war debts he said that the only way a nation can pay us is either with goods or services, and he explained that we reach for the money with one hand and with the other we push the goods away.

The World War cost eleven billion dollars and there is not that much gold in the world the speaker said. One of the causes of our present depression is that England tried to pay us with gold.

Should Enter World Court

Dr. Jenkins said that people should not be afraid of the United States getting into the League of Nations just because we happen to get into the World Court, because as he explained the World Court is separate from the League. He said that the World Court is of American origin and that it now can and does function for the good of the world.

If we stay out of the World Court, Dr. Jenkins said that the other nations would have the right to think of us as perhaps the most warlike nation in the world. If we keep on with our present attitude of aloofness the speaker said that to him it seemed we were destined to conquer at least the Western Hemisphere when we should be playing the part of a neighbor instead.

At the fellowship banquet Dr. Jenkins dwelt on the horrors of war and said that there was no way on earth of our country keeping out of another war should it come. He urged that the United States help extinguish the fire of another World War before it breaks forth in a fury.

Read Diplomatic Messages.

The speaker brought tears to the eyes of those gathered at the banquet when he earnestly explained why he would rather die than go through the horrors of another World War.

The personal greetings of the foreign ambassadors to the United States addressed to those gathered at the banquet were read by members of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. and the Y. Quartette sang two numbers for the program.

Dr. O. Myking Mehus of the College faculty one of the sponsors of the Y. M. C. A. and a sincere and forceful worker for world peace, was the toastmaster.

Is College Spirit Hukum?

Dean Charles M. McConn of Lehigh University recently told the faculty and student body of Brown University that: "College spirit and loyalty stuff is pure and simple hukum." The Dean attacked the theory that extra-curricular activities are more important for the training of character than studies and that athletes are more loyal to their colleges than scholars. "Athletes," he said, "go out for teams primarily because of a desire for publicity and personal ambition."

Alibi for Fat Man Gone.

According to a recent article in the Hygeia Magazine, the alibi of fat men is shattered and they will have to accept the report of the American Chemical Society, by Dr. L. H. Nemburgh of the University of Michigan Hospital. The doctor says that the discomforting conclusion of his recent research work remained—the only way to get fat is to eat too much and to drink too much.

STROLLER

The Stroller notices that the Tower is sponsoring a contest for the most popular man and most popular girl on the campus. The Stroller, feeling his own importance and popularity, to say nothing of egotism, wishes to announce his (or her) candidacy for the election.

And since with the Stroller there is no such thing as gender, the Stroller wishes to enter both contests.

And then, since popularity is going to be an issue, why not take up some others? The Stroller would like to nominate Homer Gile as the most studious man; Jack McCracken the prettiest man; Dick Barrett as undoubtedly and beyond question the cutest thing; Forte Sandison the biggest windjammer; Wilbur Heekin the wettest wet; George Pate the fastest man; Leonard Lewis and Marie Day the possessors of the most alluring forms; Vic Mahood the stanchest prohibitionist; and for Wallace Culver, well let's just nominate him as the only living one of his kind in captivity; without doubt Russell Wilson is the most ardent young lover, while Wilbur Stalcup is our best prospect as a bond salesman.

The Stroller would like to introduce Bill Person to Margaret Knox, Elliot Kitt to Ann Adams, Taffy Milner to Loretta Goodin, Ralph Hackett to Virginia Myers, Oliver Curl to Genevieve Wilson, and Donald Robey to Doris Wallace, hoping that something good might come of such acquaintances. And Helen Grace, who has openly declared her spinstership, secretly longs for an introduction to the "right man."

News Item: Stroller is relieved of six bits Friday evening at the college gymnasium. Guilty man is yet at large. It is rumored that the Stroller was forced to beg for three meals because of lack of funds. Liberal reward offered for information leading to apprehension and arrest of the criminal.

A custom, which has actually become an institution, has been built up in the wearing of the college "M." For years it has been used to signify that the wearer has served his college as member of a varsity athletic team, and has been significant of the respect of the college and the student body for the athlete's accomplishments. The general attitude of the college group has long been that the "M." sweaters are to be worn by only those who have earned an "M," and thus the value of the tradition is preserved. In the maintenance of good will the individual members of the student body find it quite embarrassing to take active methods in enforcing this policy, so the Stroller suggests that every student take it upon himself as a true Bearcat supporter to foster the Bearcat spirit by individual co-operation.

The Stroller thinks that the person who wrote in the article on the Freshman party that the entertainment was "compromised" by bridge and dancing was just an old meanie. Does he expect the freshmen to play tiddewinks?

The Stroller inquired of President Lamkin if he had his basketball suit ready for the College faculty vs. the High School faculty basketball game. President Lamkin said that he wasn't going to play against any of those birds until they had established a reputation by beating someone.

The debate squad of the College is organized and under way. There are four women and eight men out for debate this season. The squad is not as large as in some former years but nearly all of the squad members are experienced debaters and a very heavy schedule is contemplated. There will be a debate tournament here sometime early in February.

College Faculty Cagers Triumph

Pedagogues Score Both Physical and Moral Victory Over High School Teachers.

Something unusual and quite out of the ordinary for both the performers and the spectators in the nature of classical entertainment took place at the College Gymnasium last Friday night, when the College faculty basketball team easily and soundly trounced the much touted representatives of the Maryville high.

The victory for the well trained College team was both a physical and a moral one, thereby sustaining and emphasizing two of the seven cardinal principles of education or at least of secondary education in Maryville.

For those who saw the game the explanation of the above statement is not at all necessary. Anyone would know that a team that can overcome an eight point lead in the last six minutes of play and win by large one-point margin must certainly be in most excellent physical condition.

A Moral Victory, Too

Where the moral victory came in, was in the lesson which all who were present had the pleasure of seeing administered to H. S. Thomas by referee "Skinny" Lewis.

Thoughtful Officials

Officials Lewis and Morris Chick plainly and to the satisfaction of all present even including the high school boosters present, added to the moral nature of Mr. Thomas, principal of the High School, by teaching him that he must not let his love of sport get to such a belligerent point that he will hold arms, shove from behind, trip, pull hair, talk out of turn, or bite or do any of the other such things which it might be alleged he and some others in the game did do.

Another moral lesson was administered to Coaches Croy and Smith. These men feared the minute the game ended that they had lost the high school game with Benton in St. Joseph scheduled for the next night, because they couldn't expect the Spoofhounds to win after watching them, their coaches, play the way they did and after seeing them loose the most important game of the season.

An Aloof Contestant

Dr. Lawing was a shining example of "a conservative," and America's recent attitude in world squabbles. However in the early part of the encounter he was pretty well covered.

Lefty Fires Prettily

It is easily understood why the Bearcats have such wonderful basketball teams when one watches the College coaches in action on the basketball court. Special mention might here be made of Lefty and his beautiful counter from the center of the court, to say nothing of his magnificent power displayed in the beautiful curves described by the ball when several times he sent it completely over the top of the goal posts.

Another big mistake made by the high school basketball was their promising their wives and the high school students that they would win the game if they would buy tickets. Now it seems that there ought to be a law in China or elsewhere against getting money even for the Maryville High and College "M." Clubs under such false promises.

No one knows whether Krause, Stanfield or Strohmer wrote the stories which the Maryville Daily Forum carried, but the fact remains from the amount of space given to this game that it is second to none which will be seen in Maryville unless it is the Pittsburg game.

Are We Thinkers?

By Wallace Culver

It is said by eminent authorities that if all the birds were exterminated the insects would gain control of the world within a space of seven years.

Man, even with all his vaunted power and efficiency, could not cope for long with the myriads of insects of every description that now infest this globe. Man is as yet powerless when confronted by these hordes of active persistent pests. Only the birds remain to save the human race from extinction. Yet man, in his selfishness, will shoot down his feathered friends when they attempt to eat a few cherries or blackberries.

Upton Sinclair has said that it would take one man five hundred years to read all the advertisements that are printed each day in the United States. This is certainly indicative of a faulty distribution system. To think that there has to be that much printed material with its accompanying expense in order to get the people to buy what they really don't need. Poverty is a disease and allowing them to pay half and industrial distress still exists, it leaf the costs of dates.

because of our inability to keep our industrial machinery in operation and to distribute equitably the resulting products. It is not sufficient to be able to produce abundantly; we must also be able to distribute intelligently."

The President Says

A GREAT AMERICAN.

A great American retired a few days ago from the world's foremost tribunal, the Supreme Court of the United States. The distinguished son of a distinguished father, Mr. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes will live long in the history of America. Strange as it may seem he will be known because of his dissenting opinions. Today it may be well to quote from two of them. His attitude toward the Constitution is best expressed by himself.

"The provisions of the Constitution are not mathematical formulas having their essence in their form; they are organic living institutions transplanted from English soil. Their significance is vital, not formal; it is to be gathered not simply by taking the words and a dictionary, but by considering their origin and the line of their growth."

Again, in a dissenting opinion he laid down the following principle of "malice toward none, charity for all."

"If there is any principle of the Constitution that more imperatively calls for attachment than any other, it is the principle of free thought—not free thought for those who agree with us, but freedom for the thought we hate."

Over the Library Desk

Smithsonian Scientific Series.

The Smithsonian Scientific Series issued by the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, D. C., has recently been received by the College Library. The series consists of eleven volumes, each of which is on a different phase of the work of the institution. The set is an example of fine book making, being made of the best grade of paper and having beautiful plates in color and black and white. North American Indians, Man from the Farthest Past, Insects, Minerals from Earth and Sky, Cold-blooded and warm-blooded Vertebrates are some of the subjects treated.

Volume I is devoted to a history and description of the Smithsonian Institution. It may be of interest to students to learn that "in the Smithsonian Institution, America perpetuates the name of an Englishman. He was an Englishman who never saw America, who never until he made his will, betrayed any special interest in the young Republic across the seas. Neither was he a man known widely for any great achievement, yet his name will endure as long as the government of the United States endures."

"He died in 1829, willing his fortune of $542,000, conditionally on the death of his nephew without heirs, to the United States of America to found at Washington and establishment to be called the Smithsonian Institution, 'for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men.' The money reached this country in 1838. Congress spent eight years in sporadic debate on how best to increase and diffuse knowledge among men, thus delaying the establishment of the Institute until 1846."

The government of the institution is in the hands of a Board of Regents composed of the Vice-President and Chief Justice, three Senators, three Representatives and six private citizens chosen by Congress. The man immediately in charge of the affairs of the institution is called the Secretary. The National Museum, Bureau of American Ethnology, National Zoological Park and National Gallery of Art are outgrowths of the institution. The Weather Bureau and the Bureau of Fisheries are no longer under its jurisdiction.

Bearcatations

The world is partial to the college man. A B. S. degree and five cents will get you a hot dog sandwich at most any joint.

Are college men becoming effeminate? No, and what's more, neither are college women.

Pledges and canoes have something in common; both are worked with paddles.

Confessions may be good for the soul, but they're hard on the reputation. The Alphonse.

Cope With Depression.

Recent newspaper articles give the information that colleges all over the U. S. are striving to cope with the economic depression. Many student groups have passed rules forbidding lavish expenditures. In some schools the men students are treating the coeds as B. Kimball has written: "If poverty and industrial distress still exists, it leaf the costs of dates."

Three Intramural Teams Undefeated

"M" Club, Sooners, and Pot Wallopers Lead in Basketball Race.

Three teams in the college intramural league have survived the onslaughts of all comers and remain in the lead with percentage of 1.000. The leaders thus far are the "M" Club, the Sooners, and the Pot Wallopers.

Six teams have a percentage of .500, having won one game and lost one. The Seventh Streeters, Illinois Club, Chicks, Sigma Mu Delta, Sigma Tau Gamma, and Zero Club fall in this group. The Y. M. C. A., Giles, and Growlers are all tied for the cellar position, each having won none of two games played.

The scores of last week's games are: Pot Wallopers, 20; Illinois Club, 9. "M" Club, 27; Seventh Street, 8. Sooners, 17; Chicks, 8. Sigma Mu, 27; Y. M. C. A., 13. Sigma Tau, 14; Giles, 13. Zero Club, 20; Growlers, 18. The games scheduled for the week are:

Wednesday Night.

"M" Club vs. Sooners, 7 p. m.

Zero vs. Sigma Mu 8 p. m.

Pot Wallopers vs. Sigma Tau, 9 a. m.

Thursday Afternoon.

Chicks vs. Y. M. C. A., 3 p. m.

Giles vs. Growlers, 4 p. m.

Illinois Club vs. Seventh Street 5 p. m.

VERSES

THE WEB OF LIFE

We know a maze of dreams and deeds
Is Life—
A delicate tapestry of the finest weave;
But still our minds with wonderment
are rife
To learn the purpose of this loom we leave.
And with the deeds and dreams is woven time,
A bright and narrow thread without an end,
But having many knots both great and fine,
Which merge their rough contours
into the blend.
Our lives are knots along the strands of thread,
And none is like another, so we say—
And some tied hard remain when we are dead;
But most unkink and with us pass away—
And if to tie strong knots is our intent,
We must do deeds and not to dreams give vent.

AN ANSWER

Life, take your answer,
Here is your own;
I asked you for bread
And you gave me a stone.

My heart that you wounded
Grew rigid as steel,
Too heavy to ache
Too hardened to feel.

Life, take my answer,
Here is your own;
You ask for my heart
And I give back—your stone.

Guess Who?

The character in last week's "Guess Who" was Louise Smith. This week's edition is a member of the Senior Class and one of whom the Senior class is proud. He is tall; has blond hair, and grayish eyes. Since he does not pretend to know our physiognomy, we will let you decide whether he is handsome or not. He is a member of two honorary fraternities, is quite active in Dramatics, and has had vicarious experiences in the Kindergarten.

Start Too Young.

Dr. David Snadden, professor of education at Teachers college, Columbia University says that children are too young to start to school at the age of five years. He thinks that the ninth or tenth year is soon enough, except for children from economically and socially unsuitable homes, such as might be found in the largest cities. He says to let them play until they are 10 years of age, that intellectual and social development can come later.

Kappa Omicron Phi's Have Taffy Pull.

On Tuesday, January 19, the Kappa Phi's had a taffy pull at their cabin in the college park. Besides pulling the candy, part of the evening was spent in playing cards and popping pop corn. Fourteen members and pledges were present.

Gwenevere Wiley, who has been in school here at the College this year, now has a teaching position in the schools at Council Bluffs, Ia. Miss Wiley's home is at Clarinda, Ia.

Dramatics Club Attends Program at City School

The College Dramatics Club meeting for Thursday, January 21, was a little out of the ordinary and certainly one of the most enjoyed programs of the year, according to reports.

The entire Club was taken by motor car to the Eugene Field school, where the students of Eugene Field School, under the direction of Miss Cleola Dawson, gave a special presentation of the dance-drama "Peter Pan." The part of Peter Pan was played by Junior Cox. Several members of the Club expressed their wish that this would not be the last program of this kind.

Next Thursday's program will be presented by the College High Dramatic Club, under the direction of Miss Cecile Gist, as follows:

Reading—Leona Mae Shell.
Vocal Solo—Lucille Friar.
Short talk—Mildred Ballah.
The play "Poverty," a tragedy will be presented by the following cast:
Father—Leland Thornhill.
Mother—Lucille Friar.
Daughter—Vera Rogers.
Son—Ralph Collins.
Everyone is invited to the program.

College Brevities

Reserved seats for the Pittsburg game are disappearing even at this early date.

Some folks were fortunate enough to be serenaded by the Y. M. C. A. Quartet last Friday night after the battle. Come again boys. Don't wait until spring. If you will give three gentle raps it is not unlikely that most any of the homes in Maryville will be glad to admit you and have you sing by the fire for, oh—a song or two at least.

We, the students and teachers and others at the College, wish the Bearcats a happy and successful journey to Kirksville and Cape Girardeau this week. May you travel fast and shoot straight while on the courts of our sister schools.

The Green and White Peppers, girls pep squad, is going to Kirksville Thursday of this week to attend the Bearcat-Bulldog basketball game. The girls are going in private cars and will leave Thursday morning, returning Friday afternoon.

A Touch of Humor

By Kermit Culver

Students of the Teachers College at Cape Girardeau have organized a local chapter of the Bigma Feeta Fraternity. If the Mississippi River bottoms are as conducive to the growth of pedal extremities as they are to the growth of vegetables, Cape should have as large a membership in the society as any school in the country.

Gandhi's son has now been jailed. What with the Mahatma and his wife already in prison, they can hold a family reunion and express the jolly sentiment that "there's no place like home."

Dr. William Gerry Morgan, former president of the American Medical Association makes the statement that we are a nation of bottle-drinkers. This would seem to prove that prohibition is working nicely, indeed, when drinkers must resort to embelming glass bottles.

KINDNESS

Kindness is one of the finest attributes that a person can have. Through the murky darkness of a cruel world the light of kindness gleams like a far-off star. Much as the beacon casts its rays through the misty fog, kindness throws its evanescent glow upon this world of misunderstanding, of misery, of heartache, and of tears. To be kind is to be noble, for only the noble can be kind. The student who is compassionate and considerate is the student who is successful. To him there is no class, no creed, no color. To him every person is a fellow human being to be treated as he would want others to treat him.

A student who wants to be kind and considerate can always find a way to show his kindness. There are innumerable chances for him to make this a virtue to his associates. The seed of benevolent deed, when it lights upon fertile soil, will grow with a rapidity that will not be denied. The fruit of this tree of love will be so rich and bounteous that the amount cannot be determined by any measure yet devised by man.

Arrangements For Debate Trip Made

Two Men and Two Women Will Make 1,400 Mile Tour and Engage in 22 Debates.

Arrangements for this year's forensic season are fast nearing completion. According to the latest reports from the Forensic Council, the itinerary of the Great Circle debate trip is now completed and ready for announcement. The details of the Western Little Circle trip and the Iowa trip as well as those of the journey to the Pi Kappa Delta National Forensic Tournament and Convention are practically complete and the number of acceptances which indicate the intention of schools from four states to be in attendance at the Educational Debate Tournament, to be held on this campus on February 6, is constantly growing.

The itinerary of the Great Circle debate trip, which will extend over a period of eight days and give two men and two women debaters a tour of 1400 miles through seven states for a total of 22 debates, one men's debate and one women's debate at each school, is as follows:

Feb. 13—Nebraska Wesleyan University at Lincoln, Neb.

Feb. 14—Creighton University at Omaha.

Feb. 15—University of South Dakota at Vermillion, S. D.

Feb. 16—South Dakota State College at Brookings, S. D.

Feb. 17—Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, Minn. (at 1:30 p. m. and 2:45 p. m.) Hamlin University at St. Peter, Minn. (at 1:30 p. m. and so at St. Paul (both at 7:30 p. m. and 8:45 p. m.)

Feb. 18—Wisconsin State Teachers College, La Crosse, Wis.

Feb. 19—Dubuque University, Dubuque, Iowa.

Feb. 20—Carthage College, Carthage Illinois (at 1:30 p. m. and 2:45 p. m.) Culver-Stockton College at Canton, Missouri.

The four to make the above trip will be chosen from the following debaters: Jerome Smith, Des Moines, Iowa; Marvin Shamberger, Graham, Mo.; Galt, Shenandoah, Iowa; Wilbur Heekin, Maryville; Wallace Culver, Maryville; Donald Robey, Maryville; Harry Rice, Maryville; Georgia Moorshead, Breckenridge; Cecile Gist, Albany; Eleanor Sewell, Skidmore; Golda Farnan Maryville. Lowell Galt is Extension Secretary, on the Forensic Council, and has charge of arrangements for all forensic engagements off the campus.

working nicely, indeed, when drinkers must resort to embelming glass bottles. Rats chewed $250 in bills belonging to an Indiana farmer, so badly that bank officials said they could not be identified. That farmer tried to eat his cake and have it too. Out in this section, however, there seems to be an inhuman sentiment among the farmers that they would actually let their rats starve rather than feed them currency—if they had any.

upon fertile soil, will grow with a rapidity that will not be denied. The fruit of this tree of love will be so rich and bounteous that the amount cannot be determined by any measure yet devised by man.

WALLACE CULVER.

Youth is not a time in life. It is a state of mind, the temper of the will, a quality of the imagination; an expression of enthusiastic faith. Youth means the predominance of courage over timidity; the appetite for adventure over love of ease. Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. We grow old by deserting our ideals. Enthusiastic initiative is the greatest asset in the world. It beats money, power and influence. The enthusiast convinces single handed; wins over prejudice and opposition; spurs inaction; storms the barriers and, like an avalanche, overwhelms all obstacles. Faith and determination, rightly combined, remove mountains. They achieve the unheard-of, the miraculous.

If we keep the germ of youthful enthusiasm and ambition afloat in our organization and in our homes, carry it in our attitude and manner, it will spread like contagion and influence every action. It means joy, pleasure and satisfaction for all of us. It means a victorious life, success in the things that are most worth while.—Paul Brehm.

Jealousy Hinted as Motive For Trunk Murders

Mrs. Judd Resented Lumberman's Friendship With Other Women.

State Rests Its Case

Prosecution Completes Introduction of Evidence, Which Includes Purported Confession.

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 26.—(AP)—Winnic Ruth-Judd's expressed opinion that J. J. Halloran, wealthy Phoenix lumberman, "is perfectly grand," and her declaration that his friendship with other women "makes me so mad, I think I'll go crazy," were told by two witnesses closing the state's murder case today against the accused double slayer.

County Attorney Lloyd C. Andrews held until the last his effort to establish jealousy as the motive for the killing last October 16 of Agnes Anne Lerot and Hedvig Samuelson.

Miss Lucille Moore, nurse who said she met Mrs. Judd last September 1, told of a ride she took with Mrs. Judd and Halloran on the evening of October 16, the night before the slaying.

She had not, she said, met Halloran before he and Mrs. Judd came to her home that evening and asked her to go out with them.

Relates Conversation. They went to the apartment of Mrs. Lerot and Miss Samuelson.

"Was there anything said between Mrs. Judd and Halloran?" asked Assistant County Attorney G. A. Rodgers.

"Yes." "What was it?" "Ruth asked Jack to remember he had promised not to let Anne and Sammy know she was in the car. He said he would remember."

Halloran, the witness said, went into the house alone.

"Anne came to the window and looked out. Ruth said to me 'What do you think of Jack?'"

"I think I said 'He is very nice.'" "She said 'He is nicer than that. I think he is perfectly grand.'"

Halloran came out of the house, she said, with two other men, "Mr. Ryan," and "Mr. Townsend."

Surprise Witness Testifies. Mrs. Judd, Miss Moore said, took Halloran to task for allowing the other women to know she was outside in his car.

"Jack, you promised they wouldn't know I was here."

"O, forgot it," was Halloran's reply, Miss Moore said.

The state, attempting to hang Mrs. Judd for the slaying of her two women friends, quickly followed Miss Moore with its "mystery witness," Mrs. A. R. Lepker, who testified as to a conversation she had with Mrs. Judd last August.

"Mrs. Judd," she testified, "told me 'sometimes I get so mad at Sammy and Jack that I think I will die or something.'"

Sammy was the pet name of Miss Samuelson.

The defendant, never ceasing to wrap her handkerchief about her left hand, for the first time appeared slightly embarrassed as the two women testified to a motive on her part for the slayings.

She also appeared uncomfortable as County Attorney Andrews read haltingly to the jury from the stained fragments of her purported confession, recovered last October from a Los Angeles department store drain.

The confession, addressing her husband, Dr. W. C. Judd, as "darling," was a rambling document, expressing belief "they were going to kill me," and the overcoming of her expressed horror in sending the bodies to Los Angeles in trunks but saying "they'll hang me if I don't."

The state rested at 10:57 a. m.

Charge of Sabotage on Dirigible Akron to Be Investigated

Washington, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Chairman Vinson today announced the House naval committee would study the justice department's investigation of reported sabotage on the airship Akron.

He directed Representative McClintic (D., Okla.) to obtain the justice department's file on the study it made of charges against Paul F. Kassay, a former worker at the Akron plant where the ship was built.

McClintic had presented a letter asserting Kassay received a check about the time he was supposed to have obstructed work on the ship.

Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics, said he knew nothing about the check but would be glad to look into the question if the letter were turned over to him.

"Did your investigators find any evidences of sabotage?" McClintic asked.

It will pay you to READ OUR ADVERTISEMENTS for savings in Drugs.

"No evidences of any," Moffett replied.

Vinson asked what had happened to Kassay. Moffett replied he understood the man had been discharged but no further action had been taken.

"Pajama Parties" Lead to Divorce of Pennsylvania Woman

New Philadelphia, O., Jan. 26.—(AP)—A young wife's refusal to tell where she went after attending pajama parties of a married women's "Our Night Out" club, was the grounds today for the expected granting of a divorce to her husband.

Mrs. Treva Hostetter, 21, a vivacious brunette, denied however, the accusation of her husband, Willard, 23, that she had slipped away from three club meetings to go automobile riding with the Rev. W. H. Sanders, 35.

The club was formed of nine young married women in the little village of Midvale, O., on the theory that wives sometimes are entitled to a little fun all by themselves, with no husbands to bother. They played bridge, some of them smoked cigarettes, and sometimes they smoked in pajamas.

There didn't seem to be any objection to the club's motives as revealed by testimony yesterday in the divorce hearing, but there was, however, a great deal of curiosity on the part of Hostetter as to where his wife went when the meetings were over. This curiosity, the wife refused to satisfy.

Several Rail Unions Have Not Decided on Wage Cut Problem

Chicago, Jan. 26.—(AP)—An air of discouragement prevailed today about the conference rooms where representatives of 2,000,000 railway employees pondered whether to take a 10 per cent wage cut.

Eleven of the 21 labor organizations had not yet reached a conclusion on the proposition of the railway presidents. Ten had determined on their stand last night, although their position was not made known.

The Firemen's Brotherhood, headed by David B. Robertson, labor's spokesman at the conference, was one of those still undecided today.

Robertson plainly admitted some of the union representatives were discouraged with the failure of the railway presidents to make more definite concessions on the labor program to stabilize employment, with the attitude of his own brotherhood still undetermined, he felt that others of the larger unions might take even longer to reach a decision.

Robertson called the 21 heads of the brotherhoods into conference at 1 p. m. to hear their reports of deliberations, and the various union groups were to meet again later in the day to resume their discussions and voting.

If labor determines on its final answer to the railways today, it was not expected the joint conference would reconvene before late tonight.

Steel Corporation Orders 50c Dividend on Common

New York, Jan. 26.—(AP)—The United States Steel Corp., today ordered a dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock, as reduced from the $1 payments made in the two preceding quarters.

The regular payment of $1.75 on the preferred was ordered.

A statement said: "During the year 1931 as the published figures show, nothing was earned upon the common shares. The total distribution in 1931 (approximately of instrumental music in seven public schools at Sioux City, Ia., gave a demonstration with her pupils for Miss Alice Inskip's Coe College classes at Polk school this week. According to a Sioux City paper four selections were given by the orchestra. Solos were given on the cornet, clarinet and trombone. The Arthur school pupils provided musical entertainment for the P. T. A. meeting Wednesday.

Wage Cutting Is Rapped by A. F. of L. President

Indianapolis, Jan. 26.—(AP)—William Green, president of the American federation of labor, told the opening session of the biennial convention of the United Mine Workers of America here today that present conditions in this country were "a tremendous indictment on our whole economic and industrial system."

"Every night, particularly in the mining fields, thousands of children go to bed hungry," he continued, "we hear much about reducing salaries as a cure for economic evils. My answer is 'behold the coal mining industry.'"

"If reduction in wages was a remedy, then the coal industry ought to be the most prosperous in the world. We have an object lesson here of that unsound economic policy."

CAR KILLS A BANKER

Elderly DeWitt, Mo., Man Is Struck When He Steps Into Street. De Witt, Mo., Jan. 26.—(AP)—W. W.

McKinney, about 70 years old, president of the People's Bank, was struck and killed by an automobile here at noon today.

The elderly banker had started across the street to a mail box. Witnesses said he stepped from the sidewalk into the path of a car driven by Johnny Austin, of De Witt, apparently having failed to notice the automobile's approach.

McKinney is survived by his widow and a son Joseph, who is cashier of the People's Bank.

SINUS EPIDEMIC DEVELOPS HERE

Physicians Attribute It To Vogue for No Hats.

An epidemic of infected sinus and mastoids has developed in Greater Boston and surrounding territory and surgeons last night attributed it as an aftermath of the hatless fad which prevails here during the winter months.

So many patients besieged the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary within the last several days that it was necessary to place extra cots in the wards and halls to care for the overflow.

At the infirmary it was said that there were more cases of sinus and mastoids infections the past few weeks than in a number of years. Many of the victims said that they had recovered from severe colds or influenza only to find that they were soon suffering acutely from pains behind the ear and between the eyes.

The patients included all classes and students, who had tossed their caps and hats aside as handicaps to getting the most out of the wintry weather. Some time ago a warning was sounded that the hatless persons were subjecting themselves to serious ills, but the wise thought the matter or the milliner were behind this sort of propaganda.

A number of physicians in metropolitan Boston reported last night that many of their patients complained of ear and eye trouble following colds. Some of these had left off wearing their hats now and then.

A Sailing Party

The Elementary Teachers club was entertained last night with a "sailing party" at the home of Miss Virginia Curfman, 229 East Seventh street. The hostesses, Miss Helen Young, pursuer, Miss Gertrude Garrett, captain and Miss Curfman, steward took their passengers on a sailing party on the ship S. S. Eugene Field. Admittance was gained by presentation of passports. The ship sailed for Europe at eight bells. The first visa was made in France where Hearts were played. Miss Ola Slagle made high score. The second visa was a ball game on deck, the third visa was a picture show "A Little Bit of Everything in Scotland." Kelley was the leading man. The fourth visa was a guessing game pertaining to ships and sailing. Miss Esther Busby received the prize. A farewell dinner was given at eleven bells. The table was centered with a miniature light house. The place cards were sailors in boats. The dinner menu consisted of cocktail, tuna fish, celery salad, stepple sandwich, preserved peaches, nut bread, butter, camembert cheese with crackers, ice box pudding and coffee.

The passengers on the party were the Misses Zelma Neal, Lois Neff, Hazel Carr, Esther Busby, Hollie Smith, Catharine Harrison, Anna Mae Holt, Jane Swinford, Helen Burton, Cleola Dawson, Ola Slagle and Frances Holiday.

Land North of Maryville Sold

Ed Tindall Is Appointed Flying Cadet in Air Corps

Edward Tindall, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tindall of Maryville, has received word of his appointment as a flying cadet of the United States army air corps. Mr. Tindall took his physical examination at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., recently and will report there next month. He will then be sent to Randolph Field, Tex., where he will begin his training. Mr. Tindall expects to take a short trip to East Lansing, Mich., soon to visit his brother, Frank, a student in Michigan State College.

House in Clearmont Is Destroyed by Fire Today

A fire caused by sparks from the flue falling on the roof, early this morning destroyed a house in the southern section of Clearmont. The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Glen, and their niece. The house is owned by John Wolf.

Only a few contents were saved from the house. Mr. Glen, who was working out in the yard, discovered the fire at 5:30 o'clock and went into the house and aroused his wife and niece. It was a story and half house.

Supt. Lee Defends His Support of Sen. Dearthmont's Candidacy

Jefferson City, Jan. 26.—(P)—Superintendent of Schools Charles A. Lee said in a formal statement today that he was "at a loss to understand all this newspaper fuss in regard to my supporting Senator Dearthmont for governor, unless Senator Wilson's supporters are 'scared'."

State Senator Russell L. Dearthmont of Cape Girardeau and former State Senator Francis M. Wilson of Platte county are the rival candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. "If they are now scared and the campaign is not even started, what will they do next summer?" Lee said. "Neither can I understand why so many of Senator Wilson's followers now condemn me for supporting Senator Dearthmont on the pretext of 'dragging politics into the schools', when four years ago I issued a statement in support of Senator Wilson and not one word did I hear from the same people who are making all the noise. I am not against Senator Wilson or any other good Democrat who wants to be governor. I am simply for Senator Dearthmont, and I believe I have a perfect right to say who I am for when I am asked."

Auto Insurance Company Ordered to Refinance

Jefferson City, Jan. 26.—(P)—Joseph E. Thompson, state superintendent of insurance, said today he was giving the American Mutual Automobile Insurance company until Feb. 5 to "reinsure or refinance." Failure to comply with his order by that time, he said, would result in cancellation of the company's license.

The license of the company was suspended Dec. 15, when Thompson ordered the company to stop selling insurance until "satisfactory readjustments in refinancing and reorganization" were made. Reports to Thompson indicate, however, that the company still is selling insurance, at least in Springfield.

Pensions For Widows of War Veterans Favored

Washington, Jan. 26.—(P)—Favorable action by the house veterans committee this week on legislation to grant pensions to widows and orphans was predicted today by Chairman Rankin.

In a formal statement, the Mississippi said the bill had the support of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the disabled veterans of the World War.

"We hope to secure early consideration of it in the house," he added.

Completion Within Year of River Channel Urged

Washington, Jan. 26.—(P)—Completion of a nine foot channel on the upper Mississippi within five years was sought today by Senator Shipstead, (R., Minn.), in a proposed river and harbor bill amendment laid before the Senate commerce committee.

His proposal called for carrying into execution the recent report of the army engineers placing the cost of the channel between the mouth of the Missouri river and Minneapolis at $124,000,000.

Shipstead said he would seek adoption of the measure as an amendment to the river and harbors bill when it comes from the House.

Meantime, a bill to make the government liable for all damage to property resulting from a nine foot channel was before the House rivers and harbors committee.

Representative Kopp (R., Ia.) author told the committee damages were sure to result to the many drainage districts along the river if the project were carried out.

Illinois Legislature Meets to Aid Chicago

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 26.—(P)—Legislators of the 57th general assembly returned to Springfield today to face a problem of relief for the "needy multitudes of Chicago."

"Half a million Chicagoans are now penniless and facing starvation unless the legislature comes to their aid."

This was the substance of an appeal to "citizens of Illinois" by the joint emergency relief fund of Cook county today, pleading with downstaters to support state law makers in immediate action on a twenty million dollar relief fund.

E. D. Nims Will Devote Much of Time to Boy Scout Work.

St. Louis, Jan. 26.—(P)—E. D. Nims, newly elected president of the St. Louis council of the Boy Scouts of America, announced last night he would retire in March as chairman of the board of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Pressure of other interests, including his work for the Boy Scouts, caused his decision to retire, he said. Nims became chairman of the company's board in March, 1930, after having been president of the company for more than ten years. His successor has not been named by the telephone company.

Crash Is Fatal to Eddie Stinson, Leading Aviator

Plane Hits Flagpole as Noted Pilot Is Making Forced Landing.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—(P)—America's dean of aviators—Eddie Stinson is dead. His long and sometimes perilous career as a flier came to an end early this morning in the Illinois Central hospital from injuries suffered when a huge Stinson-Detroit plane fell to earth in a public links golf course in Jackson Park, not far from the shoreline of Lake Michigan.

The accident occurred last evening while the noted flier and three companions were attempting to return to the Wayne, Mich., plant of the Detroit-Stinson Corporation of which he was president.

Hits A Flagpole.

While over the lake motor trouble developed and Stinson maneuvered to make a safe but forced landing. The plane, however, struck a flagpole and was wrecked. Stinson, pinned beneath the wreckage, suffered a crushed chest and internal injuries, which caused his death at 1 a. m.

His three companions—Clark Field of Kalamazoo, Mich., John Tompkins of East Chicago, Ind., and Frederick Gillies of Chicago, were all injured, but less seriously.

"It was the first time Stinson had been injured in twenty years of flying, which had brought to him numerous endurance records and the distinction of having been in the air more than any other man in the history of aviation—more than 14,000 hours, for a distance of nearly 1,500,000 miles, the equivalent of sixty times around the globe.

Never Used Parachute.

Stinson, who was but 38, pioneered in aviation, and never during the whole of his long career, used a parachute.

He earned his wings at the old Kinloch Field in St. Louis, having been taught to fly by his elder sister, Katherine. His was a family of the air, his sisters, Katherine and Marjorie, and his brother, Jack, also having won fame in the field of flying. Stinson started when he was 20 and engaged in the business continuously, either as a test pilot, an instructor or a designer. He built the transatlantic planes of Ruth Elder and George Haldeman, the around-the-world machines of William Brock and Eddie Schlee, as well as numerous others.

Opposed Ocean Flights.

Strangely enough he was opposed to transatlantic flights. He called them "stinks" and finally went so far as to forbid the sale of his "ships" to anyone contemplating such a project.

Stinson himself was a southerner, having been born at Port Payne, Ala., in 1894. He was the founder of the Detroit-Stinson Aircraft Corporation later acquired by the Cord Corporation.

Radio Beam Should Reach Mars, Scientist Says

Pittsburgh, Jan. 26.—(P)—Mars, 35,000,000 miles away, is just a "tank town" on the theoretical path of a radio beam made possible by a new tube developed by Westinghouse research laboratories.

The tube is 20 times more powerful than any previous tube at its wave length, 42 centimeters, but its ten watts of power can be supplied from an electric light socket.

I. E. Mourmoussoff, who was in charge of the developing of the tube, chuckled, like research men have a habit of doing at Martians' questions, when asked about Martian communication.

"Yes, in theory our beam should reach Mars easily. We can see no reason why it should not go out for an infinite distance. These waves pierce the heaviest layer (a strata of ionized particles 100 miles from the earth's surface) and beyond that there is vacuum and they should encounter practically no absorption.

"At different times certain people have interested themselves in the possibilities of communication with possible inhabitants of Mars. If anything of this sort is ever to be accomplished, it will probably have to be done by means of ultra short wave radio."

Southwest Young People Will Meet in Graham

A meeting of the southwest district council of young people will be held tomorrow night at the Methodist church in Graham, according to Miss Hazel Waugh, county young people's superintendent. "How Young People Can Raise the Standards in Their Own Sunday Schools" is the topic for discussion. There will be games and refreshments following the program. County and district officers are invited to attend.

A meeting of county and district officers will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the M. E. church, South, in Maryville.

This and That

Jimmy Hiatt is a cribbage player. Ask him and he'll tell you that Harve England, Roy Sellers, Johnny Behm and Tom Parle are easy for him. However, cribbage is just a side-line for Jimmy now. Ask him about his twenty pullets. He says he is getting fifteen, sixteen and seventeen eggs a day from these twenty chickens. The pullets started laying about the first of December and so far he has obtained more than forty-five dozens of eggs. He said a neighbor of his had fifty hens and was getting about five eggs from them. They were sold on the local market.

Last fall when Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sims returned from their trip to the northern lakes our curiosity was very much aroused when they told a "fish story" of the large northern pike, thirty-six inches in length in fact, which Mrs. Sims caught at Linsey Lake at Backus, Minn., last August. Yesterday said fish arrived in Maryville. It was mounted in a rustic style on birch bark, which was cut from a tree of that part of the country. Some moss is growing on the bark. The fish will be on display in the windows of the Bee Hive Shoe store for a few days.

High School Notes

A very interesting talk on "The requirements of a Successful Business Man and Woman" was given at the meeting of the Commercial Club by Dr. J. L. Lawing, superintendent. In his talk the six main points stressed were: call to the vocation; preparation; personal qualities; character; socialization and staying clear of vices.

Talks on France were given at the meeting of the French Club this morning. "French Cooking," was given by Gertrude Floenor; "The Marseillaise," by Ruth Bryant; "Early French Adventure in America," by Howard Wray and "Monaco and Monte Carlo," by Ralph King.

Taxes in Most California Towns Have Been Slashed

(Copyright, 1932, By The Associated Press)

New York, Jan. 26.—(P)—Fair example of the new spirit in local taxation comes from California where a real estate board's questionnaire to 70 representative cities revealed that 45 reduced their taxes for the current fiscal year, 13 left them unchanged and only 12 increased them.

This appeared in spite of an appeal made by many public officials some months back for more taxes to balance budgets. The answer to that appeal was mass meetings all over the state.

Clear across the continent in Virginia the taxpayers have the same idea and as a result at least 15 county boards of supervisors are now considering resolutions which demand reduction in assessments and reduction in the salaries of public officials. Some have already announced 10 percent salary slashes. The governor's message to the legislature was "curtail expenses."

Taxpayers in fourteen counties of New Mexico have organized permanently to attack the rate of county, school district and municipal taxes.

Wisconsin has succeeded in reducing its property tax burden by more than $8,861,313, despite the fact that it also eliminated the personal property tax on vehicles. Long hours with blue pencils over county and city budgets resulted in a reduction of the average tax in 59 cities from $29.76 in 1931 to $26.48 in 1932 on each $1,000 of valuation. The drop in the tax receipts for the 59 cities will exceed $4,481,273.

Discovery of Last Unknown Element Is Confirmed by Tests

Atlanta, Jan. 26.—(P)—Discovery of the elusive chemical element 87, reported in 1930 for the first time by Dr. Fred Allison of Auburn, Ala., is confirmed in a report of Dr. J. L. McGhee of Emory University, Ga., to the Journal of the American Chemical Society. Element 87 is the last of the 92 elements to be found.

Dr. Allison, head of the department of physics at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, announced the discovery of element 87, a metal, and named it "virginium" for his native state of Virginia. "Virginium" was found by means of a magneto-optic machine the Auburn professor built after many years of experiments.

Dr. McGhee, discussing his report, said Dr. Allison's find was questioned by Professor Jacob Papish of the Cornell University chemistry department. Prof. Papish, Dr. McGhee said, reported he had found element 87 in one ore Dr. Allison had not used but had been unable to find it in the ore Dr. Allison had said it was in. Prof. Papish used a machine modeled after Dr. Allison's and questioned its reliability.

Dr. McGhee, head of the Emory department of biochemistry, checked the Auburn professor's work. Using all

California Police Look For Kidnapers of Elderly Woman

Salinas, Calif., Jan. 26.—(P)—Monterey county officers directed a statewide search today for kidnapers who held Mrs. Mary Hansen, 62, wealthy Salinas Valley widow, a captive nearly 36 hours while they attempted to extort $6,000 from her relatives. The kidnapers had rescued last night. Mrs. Hansen was left her alone in a cottage at Carmel, where they had driven her after luring her from the home of a friend at Salinas.

Ransom notes received by Mrs. Hansen's two sons, Ralph and Henry, were signed "The Secret Six." One of the gang was a woman, known as "Mrs. Mason," a comely brunette about 30 years old.

Officers said "Mrs. Mason" lured Mrs. Hansen from the home of a Mrs. Lonnie Jensen of Salinas, with a fictitious story about a party in the Monterey cottage of one of Mrs. Hansen's sons. Instead of driving to Monterey, however, "Mrs. Mason" headed for Carmel, where the mother was confined. Ransom demands were outlined in notes delivered to the sons later.

A telegram telling the Hansen brothers to go to a store in Monterey for directions was intercepted by sheriff's officers. They obtained a diagram of directions and raided the kidnapers' cottage.

Mrs. Hansen said she had been treated kindly. "She saw only two of the gang aside from the woman, she said. These two were men."

Congressman Aims Bill at Promotion Racketeers

Washington, D. C. Jan. 26.—Congressman David Hogg, of Indiana, Republican, announced today that he will introduce a bill in congress to curb and more heavily penalize "promotion racketeers" which are preying on the unemployed with a fake lure of easy money.

Mr. Hogg said that "money getting" promotion schemes, operating by mail or subterfuge advertising, have increased since the depression began and are gleaming millions of dollars from the needy public in small individual sums.

The bill will be aimed principally, he said, at "prize name and puzzle contests when used to obtain sucker lists for sales promotion schemes; fake mail employment schemes; questionable outdoor advertising schemes operating by mail to extract fees from people they claim to appoint as 'local work-

Osage Indians Fight to Retain Mineral Rights

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 26.—(P)—The Osages came to court today to fight in the white man's way for the oil that made them the richest of Indians.

Of the more than $200,000,000 that gushed into tribal coffers from Oklahoma oil wells, the Osages have little left and the golden flood has dwindled to a trickle. Now white men who own surface rights to the lands of the Osages are claiming the oil and mineral rights as well. Following argument scheduled today, the United States circuit court of appeals is to make a decision.

Surface owners contend a congressional act extending the period of oil and mineral rights reservations until 1950 is invalid, but the Indians won the first skirmish last June, obtaining a temporary injunction to prevent additional attempts by surface holders to acquire the oil and mineral rights. The surface owners appealed.

Bearcats Will Leave For Two M.I.A.A. Games

Ibamen Will Clash With Kirksville and Cape Girardeau This Week.

Coach Henry P. Iba and his clan of Maryville Bearcats will leave shortly after noon tomorrow for a two-game road series. The Bearcats are making the trip in the College bus and will play at Kirksville Thursday night and at Cape Girardeau Saturday night.

The Bearcats, victorious in nine consecutive games this season, will endeavor to stretch this streak into eleven games. Thursday night will be the first time the Bearcats have met Kirksville this year. The Bulldogs of Coach Don Faurot have played nine games, but have dropped three of them. After defeating Westminster 39 to 24, the Bulldogs turned around and dropped a 23 to 22 decision. They also lost to Cape Girardeau, 33 to 32 in a two overtime periods game, and to Central, 32 to 24.

Bearcats Are Favored.

The Bearcats record is more impressive than that of the Bulldogs. Maryville defeated Cape Girardeau, 20 to 16, whereas the Indians won from Kirksville. Maryville thoroughly trounced Warrensburg, 27 to 13, while Kirksville won a tight 26 to 23 battle in which the Mules nearly overtook the Bulldogs. However almost anything can be expected at Kirksville. Two years ago Maryville scored five points in thirty-five seconds of play to win by two points at Kirksville, and last year while Coach Iba and Coach Faurot were "having a few words," several of the Maryville players were chased from the sidelines by referee Parke Carroll.

Coach Iba has been working his men hard since their 28 to 9 victory over the hitherto defeated St. Joseph Junior College Griffons. Yesterday he had them out to practice until 6 o'clock, and then called them back to the gymnasium for skull practice.

Yesterday afternoon he had two teams scrimmaging. On one team H. Fischer and Tom Merrick were on the front line at forwards, Captain Jack McCracken was at center, and Ryland Milner and Wilbur Sted at guards. The other team had Ted Hodgkinson and Johnny Lisle at forwards, Stuart Sheldon at center and Robert Dowell and Joe O'Connor at guards.

Kirksville's Lineup Revised.

Coach Faurot has been switching his players about in an effort to find the most efficient combination. Indications are that he will use Bacon and Curwright at forwards, Captain Barton at center, and Pettigrew and Wallenbrock at guards. Garwood, another guard, and Towers, a forward, are also apt to get into the struggle Thursday night. These men are the high scorers for Kirksville.

At Cape Girardeau Coach George Flammank's Indians have been working hard for their return engagement with the Bearcats. The Indians, who led the Bearcats most of the game at Maryville, hope to keep ahead all the way at Cape Girardeau. In the six games the Indians have an even break, winning three and losing the same number. They have one win and one loss in the Conference.

If the Bearcats keep up their present pace the race in the M. I. A. A. will be for second place honors. The Bearcats are leading the Conference with three victories and no defeats. All the other teams in the Conference have dropped at least one game.

The standings:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Maryville	3	0	1.000
Kirksville	1	1	.500
Cape Girardeau	1	1	.500
Springfield	0	1	.000
Warrensburg	0	2	.000

"Gorilla" Jones Is Middleweight Champ of World

Milwaukee, Jan. 26.—(P)—William "Gorilla" Jones, long-armed 26-year-old Negro of Memphis, Tenn., was recognized today by the National Boxing Association as middleweight champion of the world.

Jones won the title last night by defeating Oddone Piazza, sturdy youth of Milan, Italy, on a technical knockout in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round battle, fought before a disappointing crowd of 3,500. It was the championship bout of an elimination tournament conducted under the auspices of the N. B. A., to determine a successor to Mickey Walker. He gave up the throne a year ago because he could no longer make the weight limit of 160 pounds.

The Memphis Negro, backed with five years of campaigning, outclassed out-boxed and out-fought his 22-year-old Italian aspirant. After a slow start he battered Piazza to pulp and had him on the verge of collapse, when the bout was ended by the referee. Jones won every round, with the exception of the first. With the beginning of the third, he opened up with a vicious assault that terminated when Piazza, wobbling and reeling, sagged into the ropes, hopelessly beaten.

County Indoor Basketball Tournament Will Be Played at College This Week

The Nodaway county indoor basketball tournament will be held Friday and Saturday of this week in the State Teachers College gymnasium instead of in the Maryville high school gym as originally planned, John Kling, Clearmont coach, in charge of tournament, announced today.

The change was made necessary by the fact that the Maryville team is scheduled to meet Lafayette here Friday night in a Big Six conference game.

A revision of the schedule of games was also required to meet the changed situation, but instead of drawing all over again the upper and lower brackets were exchanged.

Schedule Revised.

Under the new schedule Clearmont and Barnard will play at 8 o'clock Friday morning to open the tournament. Quiltman and Guilford will clash at 9 o'clock, followed by Hopkins and Elmo at 10 and College HI and Conception Junction at 11 o'clock.

Consolation play will start at 1 o'clock in the afternoon with losers of the first two games meeting. Winners of the first two championship flight games will meet at 2 o'clock, and then the winner of the Hopkins-Elmo game will meet Barnard, which drew a bye in the first round, at 3 o'clock.

Night Games.

Pickering, which also drew a bye in the first round, will meet the winner of the Conception Junction-College HI game at 7:30 Friday evening, and Skidmore and Graham, both with byes in the first round, will meet at 8:30.

Ray Houston, Maryville, and Albert Sipes, New Point, will be the referees. Adrain Smith of Quiltman and Norval Smith of Hopkins will be scorekeepers, and Clarence Davis of Barnard and Lawrence Throckmorton of Guilford will be timers.

Speaking of the Weather--

by Charles Fitzhugh Talman of the U.S. Weather Bureau

A Cloudburst Isn't Really That at All—It's Caused by Up-rushing Warm Currents of Air and Falls When Current Ceases.

A standard dictionary defines a cloudburst as "a sudden copious rainfall, as if the whole cloud had been precipitated at one time."

As a matter of fact, if a cloud of the largest size were, by a miracle, precipitated at one time, coming down at the maximum speed of falling raindrops, it would not cause a torrential shower, such as is commonly described as a cloudburst; but of course the comparatively small amount of water in the clouds was not realized by our ancestors, who believed that clouds sometimes actually burst and discharged their entire watery load at once upon the earth. This idea is ludicrously set forth in a quaint little German work by Christian Weise, published in 1701, as well as in many later works.

The earlier scientific attempts to account for the tremendous downpours to which the name "cloudburst" is applied assumed that the water was due to rapid condensation in the vortex of a tornado or waterspout, and hence the name "waterspout" was formerly often applied to a cloudburst, even when it occurred far from any body of water.

The rainfall attending a tornado is doubtless sometimes of cloudburst intensity, but the majority of cloudbursts are now believed to be the product of thunderstorms. Violent uprushing currents of air always occur at the front of an advancing thunderstorm. Moisture in the air drawn into the storm by these currents condenses as it rises, on account of the cooling of the air by expansion, but the upward blast is so strong that for a time the water is prevented from falling as rain.

If the rising currents are weakened at some point, a large accumulation of water is permitted to fall at one time. This is especially likely to occur when a traveling thunderstorm, which is fed by rising streams of air from overheated ground, passes over the cooler surface of a mountain, so that the supply of warm air is temporarily cut off. This would explain the special frequency of cloudbursts in mountainous regions.

Gar Wood Makes 111.14 M. P. H. in Speedboat Test

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 26.—(P)—A one-way trip at 111.14 miles an hour placed the world speedboat record almost within the reach of Gar Wood yesterday but motor trouble and broken timing equipment forced him to halt his trials until today.

The Detroit veteran pushed his Miss America IX above the present record of 110.223 miles an hour on a northward run over the Indian Creek course here but motor trouble forced him down to 63 miles an hour on the southward trip and spoiled the necessary average.

Ding Bats Defeat Alley Rat Bowlers in Slow Match

The Ding Bats defeated the Alley Rats again last night at the Garden and Thompson bowling alleys, 2489 pins to 2441 pins. The match was slow compared with the previous ones, and both teams averaged in the 160s. "Pop" Dorrel was high ten with 222, while Roy Fanning was high thirty with 521, an average of about 174. Roy Sellers with 198 was second high ten, while George Thompson and Dorrel tied for second high thirty with 519 each. The Ding Bats won the first game only to have the Alley Rats pass them by seven pins in the second game. Dorrel's 222 in the last game was the deciding factor in the match.

Tiger Basketeers Face Crucial Test Against Jayhawkers

Columbia, Mo., Jan. 26.—(P)—George Edwards' University of Missouri basketball team still hopeful of annexing the championship it lost to Kansas last year, face a crucial test when they meet the defending titleholders here Saturday night.

A victory for the Tigers will regain for them the co-leadership in the current Big Six conference race with the Oklahoma Sooners, who will be idle this week, while a defeat will relegate them into second division.

The Tigers again will take the court without the services of their captain, Max Collings, whose sprained ankle has been slowly responding to treatment. Vic Davis, veteran forward, who has been forced on the bench with an injured foot for three weeks, may see some action, but his understudy, Jimmy Zinn, or Bernard Passer, will likely get the first assignment at his berth.

With George Stuber, sophomore guard, again pinch-hitting for the Missouri captain, no changes in the Tiger line-up from last week are expected. The other positions will be held down by John Cooper, forward, Norman Wagner, center, and Joe Palfreyman, guard.

Taking time this week from their mid-year examinations, members of the squad will concentrate their preparation for their first meeting with the Jayhawkers this season during workouts tomorrow and Thursday.

Los Angeles, Jan. 26.—(P)—To Fred Morrison, strapping professional from Culver City, Calif., goes the privilege this season of taking the top place of the money golfers at the end of the far western gold trail.

Big, affable Fred, who won virtually no money in other years, amassed $5,746.66 playing five of the six tournaments with aggregate cash prizes of $39,000. First place in the Agua Caliente $15,000 open gave him $5,000.

Battalino was stripped of his featherweight title as far as the New York State Athletic Commission is concerned when he came in at 135½ pounds for a scheduled championship match with Lew Feldman here recently.

M. Kurn announced yesterday. The men, comprising about 15 per cent of the total number of Frisco employees, are employed in the mechanical department or as train porters, steam shovel engineers and mechanical supervisors.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—Tickets to view the Olympic winter games at Lake Placid are of three classes — grandstand, bleachers and standing room — Grandstand tickets are $3 each, except for the opening and closing ceremonies and the ski jumps, when the price will be $5 — Bleacher seats are $2 except for a few events when the price is $3. — Standing room is $1 a head, except for the opening and closing ceremonies and ski jumps — Season tickets good for every one of the 28 events on the 10-day program may be had for: grandstand, $45; bleachers, $30; standing room, $15 — children under 16, half price — special fourth price arrangements for groups of children have been made by the committee.

Are You Smiling?

If you were offered the choice of loyally $10,000 from Babe Ruth's $80,000 salary, or reducing the $80,000 stipend of Judge Landis by the same amount, which would you prefer doing? (It's a kind of a nasty question, at that, and you don't have to answer unless you want to.)

Think Now—

If the fact that Jack Kearns proposes to stage between his man Mickey Walker and his former man, Jack Dempsey, materializes, just what are we going to call it? (Write your answer somewhere on the sand.)

One Vote for Baseball

A recent poll of sports writers revealed that golf required more skill than baseball. The essential difference between the two games viewed from this corner, seems to be that golfers only have to hit the ball, but ball players not only have to hit it but to catch it. Cannot the golfer's drive be likened to a long base hit? And the approach to a well-placed single over second? And the putt to a drag-bunt? Well, just look at the other departments of baseball requiring skill on the part of a player. Ask Babe Ruth. He never threw to the wrong base—or caught a pop fly in his teeth.

Such Obstinacy!

Freddie Lindstrom, opening the mail and gazing upon his contract for 1932 which showed a substantial cut, affixed thereto some warm words and mailed it back. A day or so later he received another contract from the Giants' office, showing a less substantial cut. He signed. Such is the career of the holdout.

Few Have Done It

Holding out is one of the hardest things a ball player can call upon himself to do. The proof is that few have done it. Edd Roush held out for a whole year, and when he tried to come back, found that he was missing fire on a couple of cylinders. Frank "Home Run" Baker remained out a year while a member of Macks—and came back to the game as a Yankee to find it very hard to break in again. Dickie Kerr held out for a year as a member of the White Sox, tried to come back and couldn't. Joe Genewich, Giants' pitcher was out all of last year, but now has been reinstated and will try again.

A Basketball Plan

Tom Swope relays from Cincinnati tidings that E. J. Steele, basketball coach at Wilmington (O.) College, has a new idea for playing the game which is aimed against stalling. Steele would make 30 points constitute a game. The team that reaches 30 first wins the game. The teams play until one has scored 15 points, which brings an intermission. The big advantage in Steele's plan, as Swope points out, is that a game in which both teams were trying to score, instead of one team freezing the ball to protect a lead, would be more interesting to watch than many of the games played these days. It sounds like a good plan, worth trying.

Otto Reisel Takes Lead in 3-Cushion Billiard Tourney

Chicago, Jan. 26.—(P)—The crazy quilt of standings in the world's three cushioned billiard tournament showed another new patch today as Otto Reisel of Philadelphia commanded the field.

He rose to the top yesterday partly through his own efforts and mostly through the brilliant victory of Jay Sozeman, the young Californian, over the hitherto unbeaten Augie Kleckhefer of Chicago.

In the shuffle that ensued, Kleckhefer dropped into a tie for second place with Arthur Thurnblad of Chicago, the defending champion, with three games won and one defeat. Reisel had beaten Allen Hall, one of the early favorites, 50 to 46 in 50 innings.

Bozeman, whose daring has won him the applause of the galleries, came back into action today against the veteran Gus Copulos of Eugene, Ore., in a real test of his skill.

Jake Schaefer, the 18.2 ballline king, meets Bud Westhus of St. Louis in the first game after a day of rest following his brilliant performance of Sunday. Johnny Layton engages Frank Scoville and Thurnblad meets Tiff Denton of Kansas City tonight.

Bozeman toppled Kleckhefer by 50 to 48 in 54 innings last night, winning with an unfinished run of 3.

In the first night game Westhus surprised his own following by trimming Scoville, 50 to 42 in 73 innings. Reisel's victory spelled the fourth defeat for Hall in five games. In the other game, Len Kenney, who is now tied with Scoville for fourth place, won his third straight after losing the first two. He beat Denton, 50 to 49 in 56 innings.

Central Eagles Beat Rolla.

Fayette, Mo., Jan. 26.—(P)—Central College defeated the Rolla School of Mines 28 to 15 in their basketball game here last night. Rolla led during the early part of the game, with the favored end of the 8-to-4 score at the half.

SOME LAND UNENCUMBERED

In these days of depression and agricultural strife one is often led to wonder if the insurance companies of the country are not gradually taking over our farm lands to an alarming degree. For years large insurance companies have loaned tremendous sums of money each year on farm lands throughout the United States. A recent survey by a number of the large companies has brought to light some interesting figures. It was found by this comprehensive survey involving over a billion dollars of loans that of the total money loaned on farms, 9 per cent had been foreclosed, 3 per cent of the money was in the process of foreclosure and the balance, 88 per cent, was in good standing.

The report went on to show that taking a hundred average farms, 40 were found to have no mortgages, 53 of the loans were in good standing, 5 had already been foreclosed and 3 were in the process of foreclosure. These figures do not apply directly to Nodaway county or any particular section but to the country as a whole. They are encouraging, and contradictory to the belief and expression you so often hear to the effect that the insurance companies will soon have gobbled up all of our farms.

THE TRUCK WAR IN TEXAS
All things move rapidly in Texas, and so it has proved in the issue between the motor trucks and the railroads. Of late years, the trucks have very largely made off with the business of hauling cotton when the crop comes in, and they have also captured some 30 per cent of the citrus fruit traffic from the Rio Grande Valley.

The Texas Railroad Commission has finally entered the fray by rejecting applications for a permit to transport cotton by truck. The commission has indicated that it will grant no more such permits, nor will it renew those already out. The chairman of the commission has publicly asserted that the trucks are "a menace to life and ruinous to the highways."

What is going on in Texas is indicative of what may be expected in most of the states. In Missouri the trucking companies are resisting in court regulations imposed upon them which they claim are confiscatory. In Massachusetts a commission investigating freight transportation has recommended that trucks operate under permits issued upon a fee basis by the Department of Public Utilities. In California the Railroad Commission has refused to interfere with reduced rates on gasoline put into effect by the Southern Pacific. The trucking companies insist that these rates are designed to destroy their business.

There is only one outcome possible throughout the country. The country needs the railroads, and the trucks are a new and facile form of transportation indispensable to society. The solution of the problem is to put them upon an equal footing. As the matter stands, the railroads, heavily taxed, are at an unfair disadvantage. The point made by the Texas commission as to the danger to life which results from the incidence of the trucks on the highways is important. Its importance must in time be recognized in all the states.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

THREE KINDS of LOVE

by KAY CLEAVER STRAHAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ANNE, CECILY and MARY-FRANCES FENWICK live with their grandparents, once wealthy, now so impoverished that Anne's and Cecily's earnings support the household. The sisters have been orphaned since childhood. The grandparents are known respectively as "R O S A L I E" and "GRAND" and they insist on keeping up pretenses of their former wealth.

Anne, 28, and Cecily, 22, do secretarial work and Mary-Frances, 15, is still in school. When the story opens Anne has been engaged to PHILIP ECROYD, young lawyer, for eight years. Cecily brings BARRY MCKEEL home to dinner with her. She is falling in love with him. Mary-Frances and her friend, ERMINTRUDE, are excited about the arrival of a stock company actor known as EARL DE ARMOUNT.

They meet him on the street and he speaks to them. Mary-Frances is thrilled, agrees to meet him that night after the performance. She tells him she is 18, fails to note the cheapness of his lovemaking and after the first meeting promises to see him again.

Next morning Phil comes to take Anne to her office in his car. He begs her to set their wedding date. When she points out the obstacles they come near quarreling.

Cecily's friend, MARTA, tells her Barry McKel is a heartbreaker and not to be trusted. When Cecily and Barry have dinner together that evening the girl is moodily unhappy.

CHAPTER 24

"No," Cecily said, "I don't like 'em revised."
"Yes, but you don't like my flights of fancy anyway, do you?" Barry asked.

"Love 'em, Lap 'em up and lick my lips. But I get so embarrassed I have to go flippant. Would you rather I didn't use a lipstick?"

"Golly, no. Not if you like it. You know better than I do about feminine fixings, and it isn't my business, anyhow."

"Would you like it if I'd let my hair grow a little longer? These boyish bobs are clear out, you know."

"I would not," he said.

"I'd been thinking about letting it grow. It curls up when it's longer."

"Great! Sort of a shame to hide those flat little ears—but you'd know best about that."

"I've always wanted to wear earrings, but my family doesn't like them."

"Will you let me get you a pair for a present? What sort would you like?"

"Do you like earrings?"

"Abominate them—at least I do on other girls. I suppose they'd be swell in your ears, if you liked them."

She put back her head and laughed. "Dear, you aren't precisely difficult, are you?"

"Not a bit difficult," he said. "But dumb. Very dumb. I came to meet you this morning—well, for every reason, of course; but chiefly to ask you a question. I haven't asked it yet." He paused, to sing softly, "I must be very wet, for I haven't asked it yet, dressed in my best suit of clothes. These are my best, you know. These aren't my others. These are my Sunday. What was I talking about?"

"Nothing," said Cecily wickedly.

"There you go. That's the trouble. You throw me off. The moment I look at you I get swacked with joy—I'd no idea that being in love would be like this. But the minute I get away from you I go cold sober. And I can't even remember what happened. Now I know that last night I asked you to marry me. I have that down for certain. And I know that you wouldn't say when. But you did say you would, didn't you, sweet? It kept me awake

At a meeting of the board of regents of the State Normal school held in St. Joseph Monday, President Taylor read a report to the board showing an increase in enrollment for the year so far of 26 per cent as compared with last year, and of 31 per cent for the current quarter, as compared with the corresponding period a year ago. The enrollment of the year to date is 573.

The school's financial condition is excellent, and all deficits of the biennial period of 1910-1911, about $3,600, had been wiped out. All funds of the school to January 1 shows surpluses, according to the report prepared by George B. Baker, treasurer of the board.

The Knights of Columbus had a nice time Monday night when its annual installation of officers took place, followed by a luncheon.

all night. I could not remember what I'd said when I asked you, and I could not remember any time when you'd said, 'Yes.' Still, I reasoned that it must have happened in some sort of order, and that you couldn't have refused me, or I wouldn't have been too happy to use the bean at all."

She thought for a minute. "Barry, dear, you think that I'm right about my appearance and all that—you think that I know best. Won't you think that I know best about my—well, my inner self, too? Won't you wait for a while before we begin to talk about marrying—a month or so, at least? Won't you do that, dear, because that is what I wish?"

He thought longer than a minute, much longer, before he answered: "I don't like it, Cecily, and I don't understand. Am I being put on probation—something of that sort. It would be prudent, of course. But I've a taste for impulse and—well, call it courage, where love is concerned."

"Dear," she protested, "so have I. So have I."

He shook his head. "I don't understand. It seems to me that either you love me enough to say that you'll marry me or that you don't love me at all but might like a playmate for a few months to fill in. Only—darling, you aren't like that. No, you aren't like that."

"No," she said, with a definite aloofness, "I am not like that."

He was instantly penitent. "I know you aren't. I said you weren't. But—what is it, Cecily? Do you keep a little complex, too?"

"Perhaps. Though I think it is only a feeling—a prejudice, maybe. I don't want to be 'engaged.' I'm afraid of long engagements. I think they are uncivilized—corrosive. I want to love and be loved—freely. And then some day, when it is raining a little, I want to go and be married, with none of the zest worn off by waiting and waiting and planning and talking about it. When we are married" (she did not notice what she had said, and he pretended to be seriously involved with traffic worries, and stared straight in front of him) "I want us both to be amazed that such a preposterously splendid thing could have happened to us. I don't want us to be just smugly satisfied because we've got what we have been piddling toward for so long. I'm afraid to be 'engaged.' I've seen Ann and Phil—She stopped. She began again. "And—No. I'm tired of talking."

He said, "The worst of it is, I like it," and dodged a charging taxicab.

She said, "H'm?"

"For a rabid realist," he explained, "to fall in love with a full-fledged romanticist is, I suppose, merely the dealing of an ironical justice. But for the realist to like it has to denote what I've been fearing—thorough inspiration. I want to tell you about Aunt Isabel and her cleaning woman—a big, bouncing negress. Aunt Isabel's had her for years—she comes twice a week to clean house. A few weeks ago she formed the habit of going straight to the radio, as soon as she got her wraps off, and turning it on and keeping it going most of the day. Aunt Isabel is a grand sport, so she stood it for a couple of times or more; but last week she said, 'Susy, don't you think you could work faster if you'd stop bothering about the radio?'

"'Yes, ma'am,' Susy said, 'yes, ma'am. I could work faster—but I couldn't put near the heart into it.'"

Cecily laughed, as she was supposed to laugh, before she said, "But I don't see the connection exactly—if at all."

"Of course you don't. There isn't any. I was changing the subject."

She pretended to accept it gratefully. "I know a nice one, too," she said, "about a little boy named James who ate all his Easter eggs."

But, when they had stepped in front of the building where her office was, and just before she got out of the car, she asked, "Is—is everything all right then, Barry?"

"All right! There's an answer, classical, to that. You know it, don't you?"

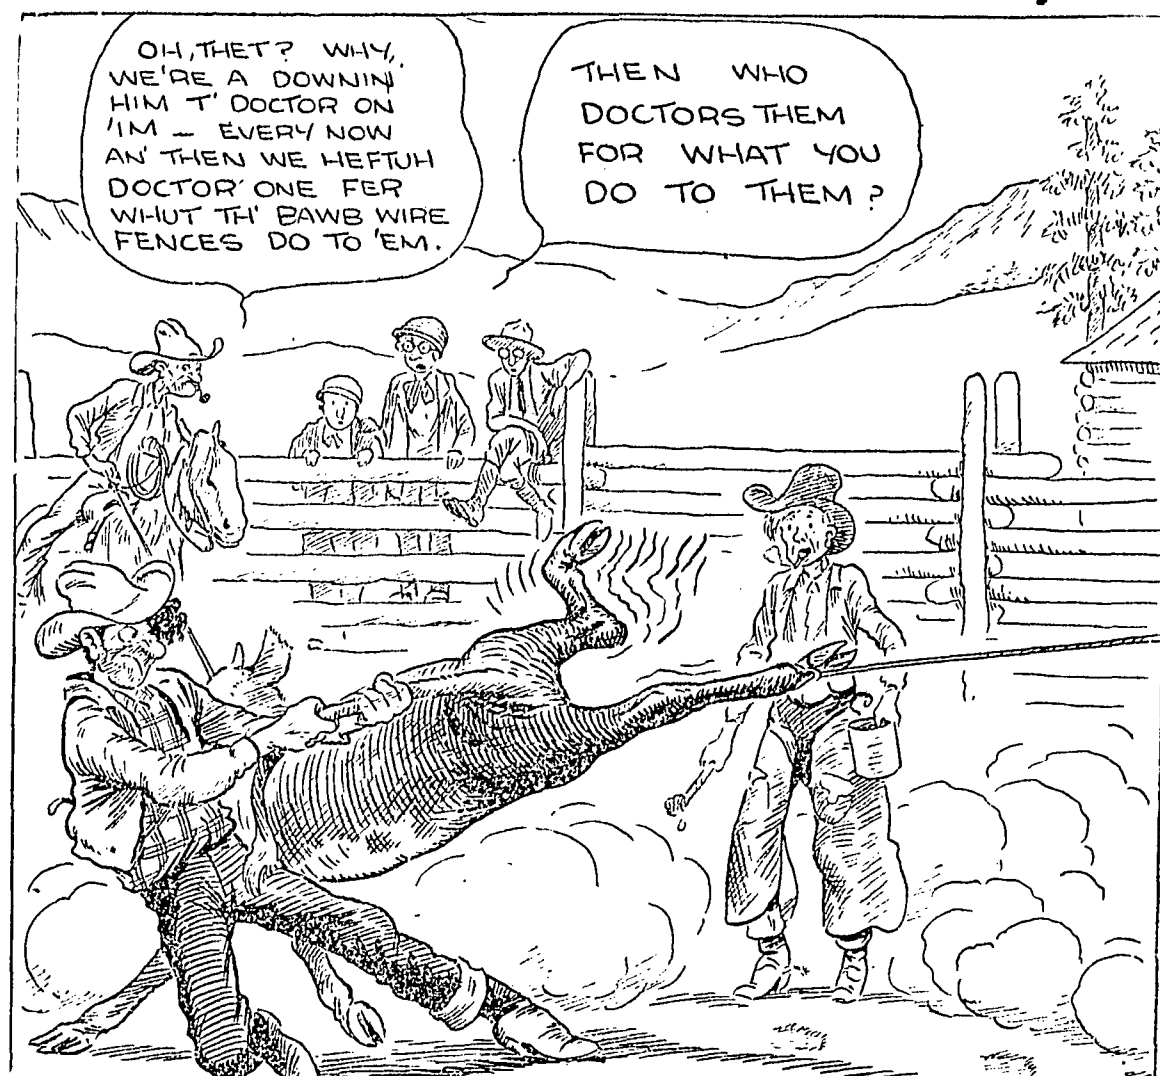

She nodded, and with no more than a twinge of doubt she smiled and left him. At the door she turned, to nod and smile again; but he had driven along. He'd have to—he couldn't stay there, double parked, and block the traffic.

The aging lady who wore the black lace hat with the purple petunias beneath the brim was not to blame. Laura Hope's poetry had been highly recommended to her by a stoutish person whom she held in esteem and called "Boy-o." She had taken the red volume from the shelves of the public library, had dipped into it, had decided—for one reason or another—that it was not for her, had risen hurriedly from the chair, and had left the book lying where she had pushed it away from her on the table.

It was frightful mischance, merely, that caused Mary-Frances to find the thing there. Again, for one reason or another, but probably because it rhymed so tidily straight through—"mine, wine, heights, nights, desire, fire, rest, breast," like that—and undoubtedly because it was silly and did not make sense to her, Mary-Frances decided that it was for her and had it charged out on her library card.

She chose a night in May, when the starlight smelled of all the neighborhood's pink roses, and a small new moon swam, smiling, on its back in the sky, to recite to Earl DeArmout—No matter. It is not worth quoting, and the child had not the faintest idea neath the brim was not to blame. Laura Hope's poetry had been highly recommended to her by a stoutish person whom she held in esteem and called "Boy-o." She had taken the red volume from the shelves of the public library, had dipped into it, had decided—for one reason or another—that it was not for her, had risen hurriedly from the chair, and had left the book lying where she had pushed it away from her on the table.

It was frightful mischance, merely, that caused Mary-Frances to find the thing there. Again, for one reason or another, but probably because it rhymed so tidily straight through—"mine, wine, heights, nights, desire, fire, rest, breast," like that—and undoubtedly because it was silly and did not make sense to her, Mary-Frances decided that it was for her and had it charged out on her library card.

She chose a night in May, when the starlight smelled of all the neighborhood's pink roses, and a small new moon swam, smiling, on its back in the sky, to recite to Earl DeArmout—No matter. It is not worth quoting, and the child had not the faintest idea what she was talking about. Earl's recollection is the only thing of importance connected with that particular evening.

"Cripes!" said he, and, "Aw, gee, hon! Aw, gee—I don't know as you ought to rave like that. Frankie sure suits you for a name. Frankie—see? And yet so pure and innocent and all. I ain't worthy to touch the soles of your feet—see? On the square I ain't. And yet, sometimes, you seem like a woman grown and other times like a little bitie—" he paused, fastidiously desirous for perthyness of diction—"cutie baby girls, and I guess that's what's got me kind of going about you—see? And you feeling like you just said about me, and all, it seems kind of mean to go off and leave you, specially since I got no prospects in sight elsewhere at present date."

The Stephen G. Sperry Players, after an unfortunate few weeks in the Hong Kong Moving Picture Theater, had been supplanted by the Crazy Crooning Combos, and "unable to make other satisfactory contracts, were resting indefinitely."

But for three breathless Friday nights Mary-Frances had gone with Ermintrude and Mr. and Mrs. Hill—needless to mention the elder Hills' ignorance of plot, design, or motive—and had sat with pounding heart and parted lips and watched Earl moving about among people who were in the highest of high society. He was debonair. He was dauntless with tea-colored decanter; he opened doors for ladies who were going to night and country clubs; he rang for butlers; he did and said, in fact—if clumsily—all the things that the Reggies and Geoffs and Ferdies always do and say in Mrs. Mayfairing's morning room, or Captain Starkweather's library, Time the Present. And Mary-Frances had an obedient memory and an energetic imagination. "Oh, Earl," she now protested. "I wouldn't come between you and your professional career—not for anything in the world. You'll just have to go. Duty calls you, and everything. But neither distance nor anything can part us, and we'll never, never forget; and, in time, we'll be reunited."

This Hatless Fad

An advertisement that is truly educational will be found on page 2 of this issue.

A fad has taken hold of the younger people of the United States, particularly in the college towns. The fad of going without any hats or caps.

On cold, snowy, or rainy days, one can see both boys and girls going along the streets with a large sheepskin collar turned up and their hatless heads protruding above it.

Severe head colds, and even pneumonia result from this fad of going without headwear. Sinus infection and even mastoiditis may be the result of this practice.

It is to everyone's best interests that they read what doctors say of the fad of going without headwear. Turn to the advertisement.

Institution at Ozark Is Robbed of $2,500.

Ozark, Mo., Jan. 26.—(A)—Two robbers looted the Bank of Ozark late yesterday and escaped with $2,500. The robbery took place while court was in session and most of Ozark's officers were on duty there.

Mayor George T. Brazeale and city clerk Frank Hanks, entering the bank during the robbery, were forced into a rear room and locked up with the cashier and assistant cashier. The robbers fled southward.

Insane Man Runs Amuck With Gun in Lansing Bank

Five Persons Are Wounded Before Maniac Is Killed by Guard.

Bank Official Is Shot

Vice-President Is Wounded First By D. J. Mead, Who Fires Eight Shots Before Being Killed.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 26.—(P)—One man was killed and five persons were shot and injured late today when D. J. Mead, apparently insane, entered the Capital National bank and began shooting after ordering everybody out of the bank. Albert Elssner, executive vice-president, was shot first by Mead, who later was killed by David Timmons, bank police guard.

Jack Lillie, in the bank at the time, fell wounded after Elssner was shot. An unidentified girl was hit by one of Mead's bullets. Mead was shot down by Timmons, who came running with revolver drawn.

Mead fired eight shots before he was dropped by the bank guard. Charles Beitter, an eye witness to the shooting, said Mead shot an unidentified man inside the bank and then fired three more shots. Timmons himself was shot three times by Mead before the latter fell dead.

Moslem Leaders in India Attack Hindu Villages

Srinagar, Kashmir, India, Jan. 26.—(P)—Rebellion, pillage and burning broke out again in the state of Kashmir today as Moslem leaders from the Punjab began another attempt to drive the Hindu Maharaja, Sir Hari Singh off the throne to establish a Moslem ruler in his place.

The Moslems are anxious to establish their rule over this predominantly Moslem state, thus forming a solid block of such states, including Egypt, Arabia, Persia, Afghanistan and the frontier province of Punjab.

Fourteen villages in the Reasi district which have hindu populations have been pillaged and a number of buildings, including the post-offices, burned to the ground.

A force of 12,000 armed Moslems were reported on the march toward Rajouri for a concentrated attack. State troops were being rushed to this point over all possible routes.

Smith and Roosevelt Will Meet in Albany Shortly

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26.—(P)—Alfred E. Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt, whose presidential aspirations are supposed by some to have cooled their old friendship, will meet in Albany shortly.

Governor Roosevelt said last night the former had sent word he was coming to Albany within a week or so to visit his daughter and that he would come to see him at that time.

Mr. Roosevelt has just announced his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination. Mr. Smith, the 1928 choice of his party, has given no hint as to his own intentions. His silence has been read by many as proof that he was hoping for the nomination again. The politically wise considered the possibility of a Smith declaration as the chief threat to the Roosevelt candidacy.

Mr. Smith's greatest strength would lie in the northeast. Mr. Roosevelt so far was believed to have gathered most convention votes in the south and west.

Another "Bridge" Casualty

Puna, Ill., Jan. 26.—(P)—George Casey made a grand slam in no trumps at bridge in a tournament.

It made him so happy he leaped from his chair at the card table and dislocated his shoulder.

The services of a surgeon were necessary. It was the second "bridge casualty" in the Midwest within a week. W. A. Rall, an insurance man suffered a fractured hip Thursday when his chair slipped while playing at the Cedar Rapids, Ia., chamber of commerce.

Dr. Brooks' Daughter Gets Divorce

Kansas City, Jan. 26.—(P)—Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Brown, 21, daughter of Dr. Stratton D. Brooks, former president of the University of Missouri and John J. Brown, 23, Washington University medical student were divorced today by a decree issued by Judge Ben Terle. The divorce petition states that the couple were married while students at the University, July 1, 1930 and lived together until February 22, 1931.

Suffers Serious Injuries When Fly Wheel Breaks

Tom Kane, who lives southeast of Maryville, is in the St. Francis hospital recovering from injuries received recently at his home. Mr. Kane was hurt when an iron fly wheel on a buzz saw flew to pieces, and he was hit on the left arm.

Mr. Kane's arm was broken in four places. Both bones were broken in two places, one on the fore arm and one on the upper arm. Only the fact that he was struck on the arm saved him from being killed. One piece of iron struck his arm high up and wounded over his head.

Four men were using a buzz saw powered by a Ford car. There were two fly wheels on the saw, and Mr. Kane was standing in front of them helping hold the timber to the saw. He said there were two other men between him and the saw but none of them was touched by the flying pieces of iron. He said he ran several steps from the saw, thinking it was the blade that had come to pieces, and it was only after he was some distance away before he discovered he was hurt.

The breaks in Mr. Kane's arm are only in the longer bones. He said that his elbow and wrist were all right, and unless infection sets in where the bones were forced out through the flesh, he will recover satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bloomfield of Orsburg spent yesterday at the home of Mrs. Bloomfield's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Late Stamper.

Bomb Kills Aged Couple

Victims Lived in Apartment Over Dance Restaurant.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 26.—(P)—Two persons were killed early today by terrorists who "planted" time bombs in a dance restaurant within sight of the state capitol buildings.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Hungerford, who occupied an apartment over the cabaret, known as the Italian Villa. They were between 70 and 75 years old.

Both of the aged persons were asleep when the bomb exploded at 4:30 o'clock, blowing out the first floor of the building and setting fire to the second. Other occupants of the building escaped with slight injuries.

The blast was so powerful that wreckage was hurled across the wide street, shattering the windows of the Department of Welfare building on the opposite side. Firemen battled for more than four hours before they could control the resulting blaze.

Operators of the Italian Villa were Paul Tremaine and Sam Vizzini. Both claimed they knew of no reason for the bombing unless "some one was jealous of the business."

Both Tremaine and Vizzini are known officially by local police. Two men convicted of robbing the Rochester bank about a year ago were arrested at their headquarters and Vizzini's house was bombed several months ago.

Police informers today attributed the bombing to underworld warfare between rival Italian factions in the city.

Aiding Forty Families
More families are getting assistance from the Welfare Board than in the history of the organization. At present the city-appointed Social Welfare Board is helping forty families. This is more than double the number aided last year.

Of course, it was explained, the city is not providing everything except in one instance. In the other cases the board is requested for fuel, clothing, food, medicine, and in some instances, shelter.

The hardest problem is was explained, was to separate to native families whose residence is Maryville, from those who moved here in the expectation of getting help. Just today a boy came in the welfare board office and asked for aid.

"Your parents should come in," he was told.

"Mother's sick and Dad's out trying to get some work," was the answer. So the social worker said she would visit the home of the family that moved here just a few weeks ago.

"You'd better wash your face before leaving the city hall," the boy was admonished as he left the office.

Make Regular Calls
The social worker is making monthly visits at the homes of those who are given help. They don't know when she is coming to their homes and many are trying to keep their homes up in better shape.

One thing is well known, the families soon learn, or know in advance, the headquarters for the welfare board, before they move to the city.

Local bakeries have been kind in furnishing many loaves of bread for the families getting aid and one local dairyman leaves on an average of thirty gallons of skim milk a day in the east part of town. The milk is left in a store and over it is a sign: "free milk."

Mrs. Crull said the Welfare Board had been fortunate in getting food from the local bakeries, dairies and stores.

200 Chinese Are Killed by Bombs From Jap Planes

Mukden, Manchuria, Jan. 26.—(P)—Upwards of 200 Chinese irregulars were killed and many more were wounded Sunday when Japanese soldiers encountered an enemy force northwest of Tahushan, advices received here today said.

The casualties were inflicted principally by bombing airplanes. It was said, as the Japanese were advancing toward Jehol province and severe fighting ensued. The Japanese lost three men and five were wounded.

Shanghai, China, Jan. 26.—(P)—Capitulating to the Japanese demand, the Republican Daily News, organ of the local Kuomintang, suspended publication indefinitely this afternoon, and some observers considered the incident tantamount to independent Japanese action within the Chinese settlement.

Publication was halted after international settlement authorities had convinced the editors that in view of the tense situation here the newspaper had become a menace to peace and order and suspension appeared desirable.

Japan had asserted that unless the newspaper suspended or apologized it would use force to retaliate for editorials which the Japanese considered offensive.

Thirteen more Japanese warships were ordered from Sasebo to Shanghai where eleven ships already are lined up in the Whangpoo river, waiting for the Chinese officials to obey an ultimatum directing suppression of Chinese societies said to be leading the anti-Japanese boycott.

While all this was going on members of the League of Nations council, except the Chinese and Japanese representatives, went into a secret session on the Manchurian trouble.

Federal Tax on Imported Oil Is Being Considered

Bus and Truck Mileage Tax Is Also Studied by House Committee.

Washington, Jan. 26.—(P)—An investigation into the feasibility of levying a tax on oil importations is to be undertaken by the house ways and means committee in its efforts to find new sources of federal revenue.

Wirt Franklin of Tulsa, Oklahoma, representing the Independent Oil Association, was summoned by Chairman Collier to testify regarding suggestions by Representatives Crowther, (R. N. Y.) and Crisp (D. Ga.), that petroleum importations might be taxed.

The ways and means committee members also indicated they would look into the feasibility of a tax on household gas and electrical energy.

Ivan Bowen, of Minneapolis, representing the National Association of Motor Bus Operators and the Grey Line Bus Corporation, said the witnesses testifying for a three cent tax a mile on buses and trucks did not know the earnings of the operators of the lines.

He opposed the proposed tax, and said many of the lines could not pay it. The transcontinental lines have to pay bus taxes in each state besides gas taxes and property taxes, and income taxes, he said.

"The proposed tax," Bowen added, "will drive the buses and trucks off the roads."

GOVERNMENT GOES IN "RED" BILLION AND HALF.
Washington, Jan. 26.—(P)—The government's loss on its financial operations from last July 1 to January 23 passed the one and a half billion dollar mark on the latter date.

At the close of business on January 23 the treasury's statement—issued today—showed that the government had collected from all sources $1,224,738,582 and had spent $2,725,814,832, leaving it with a deficit of $1,501,076,250.

The deficit for the six months and 23 days of the 1932 fiscal year was approximately $600,000,000 more than for the entire preceding fiscal year when it amounted to $903,000,000.

The billion and a half deficit, however, was expected to increase as the remaining five months and eight days of the fiscal year passed and be at least $2,200,000,000 on next June 30.

Judge's Illness Delays St. Joseph Murder Trial

St. Joseph, Mo., Jan. 26.—(P)—The trial of Al Mueller on a charge of first degree murder was interrupted here today by the illness of Judge Sam Wilcox to whom it was assigned on change of venue from Judge J. V. Gaddy of the Criminal Division of the Buchanan County Circuit Court.

Counsel conferred with Judge L. A. Vories, ranking judge of the circuit court of this county in an effort to determine the legality of calling in another judge.

Mueller, a roadhouse proprietor, is the first of three under arrest to go to trial charged with the slaying of Lewis B. Brown, Mayville merchant, November 12. The state alleges the merchant was slain after a fight in the Mueller roadhouse.

Herman Mueller, Al's brother, and W. D. Bennett, Davis City, Ia., are the others held.

Eighteen veniremen were selected yesterday the opening day of the trial.

Shakeup Occurs in Personnel of Federal Enforcement Service

Washington, Jan. 27.—(P)—Jefferson Davis, deputy prohibition administrator in the eastern district of Missouri, today was named deputy administrator of the northern district of New York with headquarters at Syracuse.

Prohibition Director Woodcock also announced that Lowell Smith, deputy administrator of the northern district of New York, will become deputy administrator of Maryland on February 1.

These personnel shifts along with others, were made public by the federal dry chief who said they were for the "good of the service."

The other changes were: James Dillon, agent in charge of the eastern district of Missouri, to be acting deputy administrator there.

Hobart D. Brink, agent in charge of the Maryland district, to be deputy administrator for Rhode Island.

A standing policy under Woodcock's administration has been shifting his personnel from time to time in order to prevent officials from going stale on the job.

Liquor Runners Jailed

Driver of Car Which Killed Boy Faces Charges.

St. Joseph, Mo., Jan. 26.—(P)—Roman Zielski and Clarence Fry, sold by officers to have been the occupants of a liquor laden automobile which caused the death of 14-year-old Denton Dean at Platte City last night, were brought to the Buchanan county jail today.

Officers said they believed the safety of their prisoners demanded their removal from Platte City.

Sheriff John Roach said the men would be held here awaiting disposition of Platte county authorities.

At Platte City, John W. Coots, county prosecutor, said a charge of manslaughter would be filed against John Zielski, injured driver of the car who was taken to Leavenworth, and that charges of possessing liquor would be filed against Zielski, his brother, Roman, and against Fry.

Kansas City, Jan. 26.—(P)—George P. Small, deputy prohibition administrator for western Missouri, said today a federal investigation will be conducted into the motor car accident near Platte City yesterday in which officers charge a school boy was killed by a car used in transporting liquor.

Damage Suit Is Brought Here on Change of Venue

A damage suit on a change of venue from Andrew county occupied the attention of the Nodaway county circuit court this morning. Mrs. Minnie D. Limerick, wife of Robert L. Limerick of Savannah, is seeking damages from the Schmitt Grocer company of which Julius W. Schmitt is president.

She alleges that she suffered personal injuries when struck by a Schmitt grocery truck on March 10, 1931.

The jury selected to hear the case is composed of:

Frank Roney, Cliff Brown, L. S. Murphy, R. R. Joy, F. C. Manes, Clyde Hoshor, Fred Stalling, Edgar Miller, Arthur Gates, John Sturm, Lester Lyle, Roy Evans.

Exceptions were filed by the defendants to the sheriff's sale in the case of William Stundon against Josie Gram et al. The exceptions said that the land sold at sheriff's sale for $25 an acre, which is insufficient. The land is located near Arkoe.

The court found for the plaintiffs in the attachment suit for $588 in the suit of J. H. McClanahan and J. G. Skidmore against Henry C. Wilson, et al.

Two judgments were entered in favor of the Bank of Skidmore on notes, one against Marion F. Ripley, et al. for $1,173.50 and the other against W. H. and Ora F. Freeze for $734.

The contract suit of the RCA phonograph company against Clarence Cook, operator of the Tivoli theater, which was set for trial yesterday, was passed until later during the January term when the plaintiff filed a motion to strike a portion of the defendant's answer to the petition. The motion was on the grounds that the answer did not constitute defense and sets up a separate cause. This threw the case in the equity docket and as a jury was waiting for a case, the next suit, was called for trial.

W. R. Buchanan dismissed his special tax bill against Maranda B. Burch, and others.

Veterans' Bureau Head May Visit Maryville

John Brody, manager of the Veterans' Bureau at Kansas City, will come to Maryville for conference with executive men if ten or more wish to see him. Mrs. Fern Crull, executive secretary of the Red Cross said, Mr. Brody plans to be here early in February.

Mrs. Crull said she has found several veterans who haven't got their Missouri bonus. She said some confuse this with the $60 given by the government at date of discharge. The Red Cross office will help make application for the bonus by filling information at the office in Maryville.

Fear Flood at Kennett.
Kennett, Mo., Jan. 26.—(P)—With the water only about three and a half feet below the top of the levee, the St. Francis river began falling at Kennett last night. Government engineers, however, expect a rise Thursday or Friday, which will test the strength of the levee. A careful watch is being maintained at the levee, with a large supply of sandbags ready in case of an emergency.

Charles Carmichael of Pickering was a Maryville visitor yesterday.

William Wrigley Dies at 70 From Acute Indigestion

Chewing Gum Magnate Had Been Ill For Several Days.

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 26.—(P)—William Wrigley, Jr., chewing gum magnate and owner of the Chicago Cubs, died at his winter home here at 2:15 a. m. today. He was 70 years old.

Death was due to complications of heart disease and acute indigestion. He had been confined to bed since Jan. 18 when he suffered a severe attack of indigestion followed by apoplexy and a heart attack.

His condition, Dr. George Goodrich, his personal physician said, had been critical since he first became ill.

News Was Unexpected.
Announcement of his death, however, came as a shock outside the immediate family as the household had maintained strict secrecy regarding the seriousness of his illness.

Dr. Goodrich disclosed Wrigley had been only semi-conscious for several days and that his death had been expected more than 24 hours.

R. A. Kirkman, Wrigley's secretary, last night informed newspaper reporters, "Mr. Wrigley's condition is much improved, but he has been ordered by his doctors to remain in bed for a rest."

Dr. Goodrich said Wrigley was not conscious for several hours before death.

Mrs. Wrigley and their two children, Philip K. Wrigley and Mrs. James R. Offield, were at the bedside when the end came.

To Be Buried at Catalina.
Dr. Goodrich said Wrigley had not been in good health since suffering a heart attack about a year ago. In addition, he said, Wrigley was subject to indigestion.

Three years ago the capitalist became interested in the Arizona Biltmore, winter resort hotel. Shortly thereafter he erected a palatial forty-room home on a small promontory overlooking the city of Phoenix, and it was in this that he died.

Private funeral services, Kirkman said, probably will be held in Pasadena, Cal., Thursday or Friday, with memorial services at the same time in St. Christopher Episcopal church in Chicago. Burial will be at Catalina Island, California.

Mrs. Louise Fischer, Mother of Mrs. L. E. Dean, Dies at 80

Mrs. Louise Fischer, 80, a former resident of Quincy, Ill., died about 9 o'clock this morning at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Dean. Mrs. Fischer has made her home with her daughter and family for the past fifteen months.

Mrs. Fischer was born May 25, 1851, in Dadenau, Germany, the only child of Jacob and Elizabeth Veith. She came to the United States with her parents in 1857 and settled on a farm near Columbus, Ill.

In 1881 she was married to John A. Fischer, a business man in Quincy for a number of years. To this union were born four children, all of whom survive. They are J. W. Fischer of Salt Lake City, Utah; George Fischer of Kansas City, K. W. Fischer of Chicago, and Mrs. Doris Dean. Mr. Fischer died twenty-five years ago. One grandson and five granddaughters survive.

In her youth Mrs. Fischer united with the Methodist church and for sixty-five years was a member of the Union Methodist church at Quincy.

Short funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at 221 South Buchanan street, after which the body will be taken to Quincy for services at the Union Methodist church. Burial will be in the Quincy cemetery. The family requests that no flowers be sent.

FARMER IS ROBBED
Bachelor Is Badly Beaten By Thugs Who Escaped With Life Savings

Jefferson City, Jan. 26.—(P)—Lewis Howard, 60-year-old, bachelor farmer living south of Decatur, Cole county, was beaten and robbed of $360, his savings, last night and today was in a serious condition in a hospital here.

Howard, who suffered a broken jaw and severe head bruises, did not know whether one or more men assaulted him. He was cooking his evening meal when the assailant or assailants entered his home.

Miss Eunice Suetterlin went to Omaha yesterday where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Latta for two or three weeks.
